Starter Packs for bioDOT with free electroDOT Recharge your battery

Phi harmonics, producers of the energyDOTs™ range, launched three Phi Starter Packs - bioband™, bioclip™, and biotag™. Each pack contains a bioDOT which is programmed with an energising and uplifting 'energy signature'. Every pack also has a free electroDOT which retunes emissions from mobile phones, computers and tablets.

We live in a world of electro-pollution. Invisible electromagnetic emissions from electricity, electronics and wireless technology surround us day and night. This creates

Each starter pack contains a bioDOT and is designed to be worn all of the time. Power comes from the bioDOT radiating the phi energy signature known as phi technology which retunes and revives the human energy field. Literally, it recharges your battery.

EMF's electromagnetic frequencies are all around us, generated by Wi-Fi, mobile phones, cordless phones and of course computers. Research studies have shown that prolonged exposure to these unnatural frequencies can have adverse effects on our health with children and teenagers being more vulnerable. In May 2011 The Council of Europe seriously questioned the safety of EMF emissions stating that precautions are needed to avoid similar social tragedies such as those surrounding asbestos, tobacco and unleaded petrol.

The bioDOT is programmed with powerful resonant Phi Technology®. The natural frequencies used in this programming harmonise your own energy field and they remind your energy field of its optimal functioning state making it more coherent and resilient. bioDOT users report more energy, greater concentration, better sleep, fewer headaches, a sense of calm and less stress.
